Replace belt when the following signs appear:

To assure smooth operation and prevent premature failure, belts in storage should be protected against sharp bending.

Belts should not be exposed to extreme heat, high humidity, direct sunshine, low temperature and harmful material

Avoid placing belts on floor or ground

The rib of belt is cracked or chipped off

The top cover fabric is worn off and cord is exposed.

The rib looks greasy and glossy.

The belt cord is protruding out.

Points to be noted while changing a belt:

Do not force the belt by Prying it with sharp tools

Be sure that the engine is turned off before replacing the belt.

Loosen all the necessary bolts and nuts, slacken the pulley and then remove the old belt.

Check pulley for grooves wear/damage and replace the pulley if abnormal wear/damage is noticed

Clean the pulley grooves and be sure not to put oil or grease on pulley grooves.

Mount the belt over pulleys and ensure that the belt ribs are seated in the respective pulley grooves.

Tension the belt and tighten all the loosened bolts as per the instruction given in the service manual.

Check alignment of the pulleys. Misalignment of pulleys will produce noise and shorten the belt life.

Run the engine for 3 to 5 minutes. Reset tension.
